The Opening of the Morocce ference Was Notable For a Spirit of Conciliation-Delicate Questions Will Be Put OR Till the

Washington, Jan. 17.—Germany made efinite overtures to the United States o join in a protest against the action of France and the agreement between France and Great Britain relative to the control of Morocco, The United States, in a definite diplomatic note, refused to consider the proposition, and stated that she was seeking no foreign alliances, nor would she consider one as she had no interest in the Mediter ranean countries other than commercial. Never before has this fact reached the American public.

Algedras, Jan. 1%.—The opening of the Moroccan conference was chiefly notable for the spirit of conciliation manifested throughout the formal inaugural session. The events of the day were the gathering of the delegations with their executive staffs and the one hour's semion, in which the duke of Almodovar, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, was unanimously elected president of the conference. The duke's speech of acceptance breathed concord and peace. It counselled the nations to adjust their differences and emphasized the essential principles of the sovereignty of the salish, the tarchurch integrity of Morotto and the open door. It was significant that both the French and the Gorman delegations heartily seconded the remarks, of the duke, thus foreshadowing the amelior-tion of Franco-German relations. The delegates had agreed to make themselves comfortable and not to trouble about uniforms, so most of themselves in afternoon dress. Chicago, Jan. 18.—The bodies of a man and woman were found We day morning in a room at the St. James hotel, Washington and Halsted streets, with builet holes through their heads. The woman's body was on the floor, with the face towards the door, as if he had attempted to escape. The man fell with a pistol clutched in his hand. The police took the weapon after unbending the stiffened fingers. The man registered the night before as Ralph Ross, Chicago. The woman's name was entered by the clerk as Jesse C. Thompson, no address given. The bodies are at the morgue awaiting identification.

Delaware Mob After a Negro. Dover, Del., Jan. 17.—Sheriff Baker and deputies arrived here early Wednesday morning with the negro, John Langford, who attempted to criminally assault a foung Sussex county school-teacher Monday. The negro was caught in a swamp. A crowd followed the officers and prisoner to the Milford jail, where a mob stormed the jail. They smashed windows and broke in the door. The warden and his deputies stood guard over the prisoner and held the mob back. During an opportune moment, when part of the crowd had dispersed for breakfast, Baker spirited the prisoner away and brought him here, where he is safely locked up in the county jail. The prisoner has confessed to the attempted assault. Feeling runs high.

Fought With Pistols

Fort Smith, Ark., Jan. 17.-Will Creasy, a deputy constable, and Will Campbell, a Frisco switchman, were fatally shot in a fight on the Missouri Pacific bridge across the Arkansas river. Creasy was shot twice, once through both thighs. Campbell was shot twice in the breast, twice in the right and once in the left. Both are in St. Edward's inficurary, with slight chances of recovery. Creasy has a reputation of being a bad man, having shot several men.
